

Consejo Latinoamericano
de Ciencias Sociales Conselho Latino-americano
de Ciências Sociais

SOUTH-SOUTH TRICONTINENTAL COLLABORATIVE PROGRAM

2014 SOUTH-SOUTH SCHOLARSHIPS

Work and Welfare in the South

The Latin American Council of Social Sciences (CLACSO), the Council for the Development of Social Science Research in Africa (CODESRIA), and the International Development Economics Associates (IDEAs), executive institutions of the Latin America, Africa and Asia Scholarly Collaborative Program (2013-2015), notify the general results of the South-South Scholarships Award 2014 for research on the theme "Work and Welfare in the South".

The evaluation process was conducted regionally and it was in charge of an Academic Board composed by the following specialists:

Alfred Ndiaye (Senegal), Andong Zhu (China), Cecilia Senén González (Argentina), Giovanni Antonio Pinto Alves (Brazil), José Antonio Aravena Carrasco (Chile), Marta Susana Novick (Argentina), Pasuk Phongpaichit (Thailand), Patrick Bond (South Africa), Rossana Barragán Romano (Bolivia), Stephen Z. Onyeiwu (United States)

All the proposals were evaluated according to strict standards of academic excellence. Accordingly, the following research projects were selected:

Nombre y apellido	País	Institución	Proyecto de Investigación
 Angela Maria Carreno (Colombia)	Thailand	Asylum Access (NGO)	Refugees' Right to Work: Ecuador, Tanzania & Thailand
 Nguyen Viet Cuong (Vietnam)	Vietnam	Mekong Development Research Institute and National Economics University, Hanói	Does Parental Migration and Remittances Improve Child Welfare? Comparative Evidence from Ethiopia, India, Peru and Vietnam
 Anneeth Kaur Hundle (Uganda)	Uganda	Makerere Institute of Social Research Kampala	Asian Capital, Migration, Citizenship and Security in Contemporary Kampala

	Lorena Poblete (Argentina)	Argentina	Instituto de Desarrollo Económico y Social	Between innovation and inertia: the regulation of domestic service in the South. The Argentine case in the light of the Filipino and South African cases
	Oluwasola Emmanuel Omoju (Nigeria)	China	School of Economics Xiamen University	Do Race and Nationality Matter in Getting a Job? Field Experiment of Employment Discrimination in China
	Luciana Itikawa (Brazil)	Brazil	Programa de Pós-Graduação em Integração da America Latina, Universidade de São Paulo	Women on the periphery of capitalism: discrimination and subordination in the context of informal autonomous and subcontracted native and immigrant female workers in a comparative perspective São Paulo-Durban-Mumbai
	Saket Suman Saurabh (India)	India	Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi	Reading through the Texts of Rigoberta Menchu and Dayamani Barla: A Comparative Study
	Sosena Tsegaye (Ethiopia)	Ethiopia	Armauer Hansen Research Institute Alert Campus, Ethiopian Ministry of Health	The Migration of Ethiopian Female Domestic Workers to Arab Countries: With Special Reference to Returnees
	Yulianela Pérez García (Cuba)	Cuba	Centro de Estudios de Migraciones Internacionales, Universidad de la Habana	Migration and work among the southern regions: analysis from a global perspective on migration